

Workshop on « Trajectories »

October 14th, 2011

Centre d'Economie de la Sorbonne
112 Boulevard de l'Hôpital, PARIS

Trajectoires'11

9h00-9h45

Nicolas Robette

Université Versailles-Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines, France

Analysis of life-courses
a typological approach

9h45-10h30

Matthias Studer

Université de Genève, Switzerland

An introduction to sequence analysis using TraMineR package

11h00-11h45

Brendan Halpin

University of Limerick, Ireland

Sequence analysis of life-course data and sociological meaning

11h45-12h30

Cees Elzinga

VU University, The Netherlands

Kernels for sequences and networks

14h00-14h45

Patrick Rousset

CEREQ, France

Career-path typologies

14h45-15h30

Sébastien Massoni

Université Paris 1, France

An analysis of career-paths using non-homogeneous
Markov chains and self-organizing maps

16h00-16h45

Raffaella Piccarella

Università Bocconi, Italy

Describing and visualizing life-courses represented as sequences